MILL AT WHITE CAPS IS ABOUT READY TO START

Working Force in Mine Has Been Doubled and Conditions Are Reported Satisfactory

It should not be a great while now until treatment of ore at the White Caps mill is started. The mill, which is being broken in and the transfer has been brought into commission, according to reports received in Tonopah. There are quite a number of preliminaries to be gone through yet before ore treatment will be in order, but conditions are most satisfactory about the mine and mill.

During the past couple of weeks the working force in the mine has almost been doubled, and there is an air of activity noticeable that has not been witnessed in Manhattan in a long period. Operations are being carried through the tunnel known as the south level and large ore reserves are in evidence which is an assurance that the long redoubtable plant will be kept in operation for a long period.

SILVER MINING ACTIVITIES ARE NOW PROMISING

Geological Report of Department of Interior Issues Most Favorable Report

The mines of Nevada, especially the silver mines, showed increased activity during the first six months of 1922, according to V. C. Helgeson, chief of the United States geological survey, department of the interior. The copper mines are just again becoming productive, the zinc mines, and most of the lead mines are at a low ebb, but the silver mines and many of the gold mines are rapidly returning to a normal output. In 1921 the value of the metal output was $12,137,544, which is less than the value in any year since 1905.

The gold mines of Nevada, however, showed a marked increase in production during the first six months of 1922. The production of gold in Nevada, according to Helgeson, has steadily increased since 1910, and an increase in the state output is expected in 1922, as many of the mines have now gone into the year. Mining in the Tonopah district, which produced more than $3,000,000 in 1921, has improved steadily since the miners' strike of 1921, and several companies have increased their output. The quantity of gold output from the district is expected to be greater in 1922, as the mines are now preparing for active operations in May. The shipments of gold from the district increased considerably, especially from the Silver Peak mine, on Red Top ground, and a larger gold output was expected from the Round Mountain and Battle Mountain placers. Mining and building have progressed at Virginia City, but in May several of the producing properties stopped development work below the Sullivan tunnel. At Gold Circle the mill of the Elko Placer Mining company was destroyed by fire, but a new mill is planned for the Big Cut mine.

The production of silver in 1921 was 7,082,782 ounces, a decrease from 7,745,098 ounces in 1920. The output of silver from Tonopah was increasing early in 1922, and the opening of new ore bodies was most encouraging. In 1921 the Tonopah district produced 4,823,501 ounces of silver, and the largest silver producers of the state were the Tonopah, Belmont, Tonopah Extension, Tonopah Mining, West End and the Rochester silver mines. All these mines are increasing their production in 1922. The Tonopah Divide mine in Esmeralda county, was active early in the year, and the various custom mills at Tonopah and Millers are in operation. At Virginia City production of the 250-ton mill of the United Cattle stock was progressing rapidly. The construction of the Candelaria mill, in Mineral county, was also being completed, and rich silver lead ore was shipped from the Hudson mine in Nye county. In Lincoln county, which produced 264,304 ounces of silver in 1921, the shipments of ore were curtailed, but they improved somewhat when the freight rate was reduced.

Nevada produced 19,961,401 pounds of copper in 1921, a decrease from 20,559,793 pounds in 1920. The Nevada Consolidated Copper company was idle early in 1922, but preparations for operating the mine, mill and smelter were being made in May. Other copper mines in White Pine and Lyon counties will probably resume mining as the market conditions continue to improve.

The output of lead in Nevada decreased from 21,265,700 pounds in 1920 to 7,188,768 pounds in 1921. In the first half of 1922 the production of the lead mines has been unusually small. The mines of Good Springs, Eureka and Ploche have not recovered from the low metal prices and high freight rates of the last few years. The recent increase in the price of lead and the reduced freight rates may make a larger output possible later in the year. Much lead ore and concentrate was shipped from the Lead Metals, Bristol Silver, Simon Lead, Leadville and Spruce Monarch mines early in 1922.

The output of recoverable zinc decreased from 10,698,040 pounds in 1920 to 6,937 pounds in 1921. The output of zinc in 1922 depends largely upon the resumption of work in the Yellow Pine district, Clark county, and work there may be resumed later in the year, as the price of zinc is rising. Some zinc concentrate from the Simon Lead mine was shipped to an oxide plant and the shipments will probably increase after arrangements have been completed for the roasting of this material at Goldfield.

In the early part of 1922 dividends were paid by the Tonopah Belmont, Tonopah Extension, Tonopah Mining and Rochester Silver companies.
